

NAME: _____

Chapter 6 Review

A+
100%*9 Written Questions

1. CSS property that configures empty space between an element and adjacent elements

CORRECT: margin

2. Set the CSS display property to this value and the browser will not display the element

CORRECT: none

3. Set the CSS positioning property to this value to change the location of an element in relation to where it would appear in normal flow

CORRECT: relative

4. The default browser flow as it renders HTML elements

CORRECT: normal flow

5. CSS pseudo-class activated on a mouseover

CORRECT: hover

6. Set the CSS display property to this value and the browser will render the element as a block element

CORRECT: block

7. CSS property that configures the type of list marker displayed

CORRECT: list-style-type

8. CSS pseudo-class configures the default state for an unvisited hyperlink

CORRECT: link

9. The CSS float property will float an element on the right side of the containing element when set to this value.

CORRECT: right

8 Matching Questions

---

1. list-style-image

- c CORRECT: CSS property that configures an image to replace the list markers in a list

a

Box model area between the padding and the margin

b

HTML5 element that contains a sidebar or other tangential content

c

CSS property that configures an image to replace the list markers in a list

d

CSS property configures if and how an element is displayed

e

HTML5 element that contains a portion of a document, such as a chapter or topic.

f

HTML5 element that contains a section of navigation hyperlinks

g

CSS pseudo-class triggered when a hyperlink is clicked

h

CSS property that configures the placement of a list marker

2. display

- d CORRECT: CSS property configures if and how an element is displayed

3. active

- g CORRECT: CSS pseudo-class triggered when a hyperlink is clicked

4. list-style-position

- h CORRECT: CSS property that configures the placement of a list marker

5. nav

- f CORRECT: HTML5 element that contains a section of navigation hyperlinks

6. aside

- b CORRECT: HTML5 element that contains a sidebar or other

tangential content

7. section

- ☒ CORRECT: HTML5 element that contains a portion of a document, such as a chapter or topic.

8. border

- ☒ CORRECT: Box model area between the padding and the margin

8 Multiple Choice Questions

---

1. CSS pseudo-class configures a hyperlink that has already been clicked
  - a. footer
  - b. right
  - c. aside
  - d. CORRECT: visited

2. The CSS float property will float an element on the left side of the containing element when set to this value.
  - a. float
  - b. link
  - c. clear
  - d. CORRECT: left

3. CSS property that "floats" an element relative to other elements
  - a. left
  - b. block
  - c. clear
  - d. CORRECT: float

4. CSS property configures the offset position of the left edge of an element
  - a. CORRECT: left
  - b. clear
  - c. float
  - d. link

5. HTML5 element that represents a date or time
  - a. CORRECT: time
  - b. top
  - c. aside
  - d. link

6. HTML5 element that contains an independent entry, such as a blog posting or comment that can stand on its own
  - a. aside
  - b. time
  - c. CORRECT: article
  - d. active

7. HTML5 element that groups heading level elements
  - a. top
  - b. margin
  - c. CORRECT: hgroup
  - d. none

8. HTML5 element that contains the headings of a web page document
  - a. clear
  - b. hover
  - c. CORRECT: header
  - d. border

8 True/False Questions

---

1. clear → CSS property that "floats" an element relative to other elements

CORRECT: This is false.

It should be clear → CSS property that renders the element in the next horizontal band under a floating element.

2. top → HTML5 element that represents a date or time

CORRECT: This is false.

It should be top → CSS property configures the offset position of the top edge of an element.

3. pseudo-class → HTML5 element that contains a portion of a document, such as a chapter or topic.

CORRECT: This is false.

It should be pseudo-class → CSS that configures hyperlinks to respond to mouse events.

4. text-decoration → CSS property determines whether text is underlined

CORRECT: This is true.

5. absolute → Set the CSS positioning property to this value to specify the exact position of an element

CORRECT: This is true.

6. footer → HTML5 element that contains the footer content of a web page or block display element

CORRECT: This is true.

7. inline → Set the CSS display property to this value and the browser will not display the element

CORRECT: This is false.

It should be inline → Set the CSS display property to this value and the browser will render the element as an inline element.

8. padding → CSS property that configures empty space between an element and adjacent elements

CORRECT: This is false.

It should be padding → Box model area between the content and the border.